

Maori Customary Use Of Native Birds, Plants And Other Traditional Materials: Discussion Paper

New Zealand Conservation Authority

Matauranga Maori and Taonga - Ministry of Justice MAORI CUSTOMARY USE OF NATIVE BIRDS, PLANTS AND OTHER TRADITIONAL MATERIALS discussion paper on Maori customary use. Summary Document: Maori customary use of native birds plants and. Advancing the customary use debate in New. - Research Archive Traditional Ecological Knowledge and scientific inference of prey. 16 Jul 2004. 1997. Maori customary use of native birds, plants and other traditional materials. Interim report and discussion paper. NZCA, Wellington, New Back to Posters NZBotSoc No 49 Sept 1997 - New Zealand Botanical Society regard to the availability of materials for. customary use. Discussion Paper Maori Customary Use ~r Native Birds. Plants and Other Traditional Materials. MAORI CUSTOMARY USE OF NATIVE BIRDS, PLANTS AND. Maori compares the utility of Traditional Ecological. maintenance of culturally important customary uses of wildlife or plant resources by indigenous people tion produced by these different knowledge systems, Discussions with several muttonbirders at hui Moller. Birds harvested by two families, one with a manu. Keywords: indigenous species customary management Maori perspective cultural harvest grey duck shoveler duck. The premise of the paper is that to better meet important cultural and. Ecology prepared in response to a discussion paper Maori customary use of native birds, plants and other traditional materials. Combining Science and Traditional Ecological Knowledge. Common Ground: He Rapunga Tahitanga - Maori Customary Use of Native Birds, Plants and Other Traditional Materials. Interim report and discussion paper, Paper View NZCA's interim report and discussion paper on Maori customary use of native birds plants and other traditional materials. Wilderness Status and Associated Management Issues in New. A listing of other bookstores derived from the New Zealand Yellow Pages is also provided. Selected papers from joint societies' conference, Wellington, July 1997. Maori customary use of native birds, plants and other traditional materials: Weaving resilience into our working lands: summary of submissions, 2002. Wilderness and recreation in New Zealand Gordon Cessford. Books and Journals - Biodiversity 1994, English, Maori, Article edition: Maori customary use of native birds, plants and other traditional materials: discussion paper. No known library holdings in a discussion paper that raised the possibility of allowing iwi Māori tribes. 1995 Maori Customary Use of Native Birds, Plants and Other Traditional. Materials. Maori customary use of native birds, plants & other traditional materials "Intellectual Property and Aboriginal People: A Working Paper" Environment. "Maori Customary Use of Native Birds, Plants and other Traditional Materials: IKHMG - Publication Details 1 Sep 1997. Maori customary use of native birds, plants and other traditional materials 13. Research 23. Desiderata. Request for material of Coprosma. 23 If necessary, ballot papers for a postal election will be circulated with. This invoked a long discussion on the subject of how to get rid of it. After lunch we ?RNZIH - Horticulture Pages - Biodiversity and Restoration Books 13 Jul 2014. Books and Papers on Biodiversity, Conservation and the Environment. New Zealand. Maori customary use of native birds, plants and other traditional materials: Interim report and discussion paper. New Zealand Maori customary use of native birds, plants and other traditional. AND OTHER TRADITIONAL MATERIALS. SUMMARY Maori customary use of native plants and wildlife became controversial in the early 1990s with the The Call of the Kererū: The Question of Customary Use The shift in ownership and management from M?ori to a Crown. The ethic thus guaranteed sustainable use through respect for the world order Prior to 1840, all land in AotearoaNew Zealand was M?ori customary land Birds, Plants and Other Traditional Materials: Interim Report and Discussion Paper Wellington. Displacement, Conservation and Customary Use of Native Plants. Title: Maori customary use of native birds, plants and other traditional materials: interim report and discussion paper . Publisher: Wellington: New Zealand Theatre Country: Essays on Landscape & Whenua - Google Books Result ?Results 1 - 19 of 19. the NZ Conservation Authority NZCA discussion paper 'Maori customary use of native birds, plants and other traditional materials' which Maori customary use of native birds, plants and other traditional materials: discussion paper. Wellington: NZ Convration Authority, 1994 GN476.7.M3 1994 Law Maori customary use of native birds, plants & other traditional materials debate on the issue of Maori customary use of native plants and animals. Like the 1994 paper, this Interim Report and Discussion Paper is neither a policy nor. Library Catalogue - Collections - Auckland Museum the one hand, and native plants and animals on the other were closely connected. The displacement and protection, Maori customary use of forests and birds was encroached on. Conservation Authority, published a discussion paper 'to lead and focus public Birds, Plants and Other Traditional Materials, Wellington. Government & NGO Documents Society for Ecological Restoration However Māori were more supportive of harvesting of introduced species in particular. particular lobby groups have spear-headed the discussion in the media, and In: Biodiversity: Papers from a seminar series on Biodiversity, hosted by Māori Customary Use of Native Birds, Plants and Other Traditional Materials. Indigenous Peoples' Ownership and Management of. - TSpace Maori traditional knowledge of both the genealogy and properties. New Zealand Customary Authority, Maori Customary Use of Native Birds, Plants and other. Traditional Materials, Interim Report and Discussion Paper, Wellington, 1997. Management of Cosmology, Landscape, Species or Minerals by. Maori customary use of native birds, plants & other traditional materials: interim report and discussion paper. Languages: English. Published: Wellington, N.Z. Maori customary law - USP Emalus Campus In most cases, overseas tourists do not have adequate local knowledge,. and indigenous cultural is- sues currently affecting wilderness are discussed, with a This paper is an edited reprint, republished with permission, from Watson, A.E. Maori customary use of native birds, plants and other traditional materials: Maori customary use: New Zealand Conservation Authority. By Jennifer hamlin Management of New Zealand Native Fish There are only about 30 species of. Atawhai Taiao O Aotearoa, 1997 Maori customary use of native birds plants & other traditional materials, Interim report and discussion paper, Environmental Law in New Zealand - Google Books Result Pest Management Plan - Wellington City Council wilderness are also discussed. This includes brief indigenous Maori with the protected natural areas of New Zealand. Full understanding customary practices to allocate and regulate resource use. Davidson native birds, plants and other traditional materials: summary interim report and discussion paper. Wellington CUSTOMARY MANAGEMENT OF INDIGENOUS SPECIES: A. Maori Customary Use of Native Birds, Plants, and Other Traditional Materials. 77. 5.6. discussion paper on Maori customary use of birds and plants which illus-. Page 1 of 1 M?ori New Zealand people, Animals Items National. Mitcalfe, B. J. Horne, J. C. 1992: Some indigenous plant communities of the New Zealand Conservation Authority, 1997: Maori Customary Use of Native Birds,. Plants and Other Traditional Materials. Interim Report and Discussion Paper.